

(the optimistic one)

STATUS: SUPERSEDED

Working title: "Do Quiescent Galaxies Just Need a Little Encouragement?"

Abstract: We set out to measure the molecular gas content of early-type galaxies. We were young. We were hopeful. We budgeted three weeks for the entire analysis.

Proposed structure:

Chapter 1 Introduction 40 pages

Chapter 2 Methods (to be written the night before)

Chapter 3 Results [DATA PENDING]

Chapter 4 Conclusions "galaxies are far away and difficult"

Supervisor's note in the margin: "Good start. Now do some science."